

NO AUTHORITY FOR PAY.

Controller's Report on Proposed Meeting of Naval Militia Experts.

The division of naval militia affairs of the Navy Department has been planning to bring a number of prominent men from different parts of the country, who are identified with the service, to Washington to attend a meeting of the naval militia board for the purpose of formulating standard regulations for the organization, discipline, training, armament and equipment of the naval militia and volunteers of the country.

The controller of the Treasury has thrown cold water on the project by deciding that there is no authority for such a conference and no money to pay the expenses of those called here.

The Navy Department wished to know if the expenses of those summoned would be paid and if they should receive pay and allowances. The controller finds no authority in the last naval bill or in any law prior to that.

That is where the opening of a Savings Account has such a big advantage. It kindles the incentive to husband what might otherwise be wasted. Make up your mind to put a certain amount to your credit in the bank at regular intervals and you'll do it. When you do that you have laid the foundation for future prosperity. It is in usable form, ready for any opportunity that may come along, or any emergency that may arise. The old saying is "Money talks"—and with an Account in our Savings Department you will be in a position to "have your say."
